Bannatyne Ave., Winnipeg
Christmas Nineteen Hundred & Twenty Eight.

. . . Clear cut and bold, the illuminated dome of the Manitoba Legislative building stands out against a deep blue sky . . . In its simplicity the cenotaph marks a city's memory for her soldier dead . . . The massive stone structure on the East side of Memorial Boulevard symbolizes the march of progress Westward in Canada . . . Memorial Boulevard, remembers, yes—but points a steady finger to the tremendous changes taking place in Western Canada.
